Hil I'm Emre. I'm a student, but I'm staying at home these days, and I try to learn the recipe for a traditional Turkish dish every day. Today, my mather shares the recipe for "kuymak" with me.

KUYMAK

- First, melt some butter in a pan and add some cornflour in it. Stir well.
- Then, add some water and continue stirring.
- After that, add some cheese and stir until it melts.
- Finally, serve the kuymak hot.

- 1 Which of the following DOES NOT have an answer in the recipe?
- A) How long does it take to make kuymak?
B) What are the ingredients of kuymak?
C) How should we serve kuymak?
D) What should we do after adding some water?
- 2 Which of the following is TRUE?
A) You need egg and tomatoe to make Kuymak.
B) You should serve Kuymak hot.
C) You don't need any water.
D) You should serve Kuymak cold.

Yes, I have to stay at home, but I don't want to spend my time doing ridiculous things. I want to improve myself, so I use the internet to study. I study an EBA to practice my school subjects. I also use the British Council's website to practice English, and I watch some different teachers on Youtube and take notes. My teachers send me some activities on the Internet, too. We can't go to school, but it is not a holiday. We shouldn't forget this.

Answer the 5. and 6. questions according to the text below.

Hil I'm Mert. I'm a doctor. If your body isn't strong enough, you may become ill easily. I want to share the names of some food and drinks that help you keep healthy and strong. First, drink lots of water every day. 2-2.5 liters of water will save you from many health problems. Second, always get enough vitamin C. Green pepper, lemon and orange can provide you with the necessary amount of vitamin C. Protein is also very important for your body. Eggs, meat and cheese make your body strong. If you feel unhappy and tired, you definitely need vitamin B12. You can get this vitamin from seafood, milk and yoghurt. Finally, garlic and ginger are the secret of a healthy life. If you eat them regularly, you will avoid many health problems. Stay at home and stay strong. Bye.
